

Mastery in Coaching

Significantly enhance your coaching impact! This training program is designed for 1) new or experienced coaches who are ready to deepen their practice of the core coaching competencies as part of qualifying for their next level of accreditation with the International Coaching Federation (ICF), and 2) leaders and HR professionals who are developing their understanding of coaching and building their skills.

About the Program

As coaches, leaders and development practitioners, we are continually building our skills and deepening our practice of coaching competencies to provide more meaningful impact that supports and empowers the people we serve. This course is designed to support you by helping you learn, practice, integrate and demonstrate core coaching competencies as defined by the ICF and review the ethics and standards of coaching to set you up for success on your coaching journey.

- The exercises, practices and concepts discussed during training are sequenced according to adult education principles to deepen and accelerate your learning.
- Eight coaching competency modules are explored in segments where you will discuss theory and explore ICF requirements, observe demonstrations by a PCC coach, have ample opportunity to practice the skills, receive real-time feedback, reflect on what you are learning and become more intentional about how you can apply this learning going forward.
- Course materials are delivered to ensure the learning and application of coaching is relevant, meaningful and applicable in a variety of contexts (i.e. leaders as coaches, professional coaches, and specialized professionals who want to apply coaching skills and principles in their roles).
- During the course you will actively focus on skills practice. This will equip you to coach with the confidence and credibility that comes from a greater understanding and supervised practice.
